

King Carlo Claims Seventh Straight Tournament Win

New York, November 8, 2014.

A spirited competition in The Big Apple, November 2014

Thirty determined players turned up for New York's 2014 SOHO classic, organized by John Fayolle. At the end of the day Carlo Bossio prevailed for his seventh consecutive NTHL tournament win. Pat Cote came in second, while Sam Anoussis took third spot.

Pat Cote (2), Carlo Bossio (1), Sam Anoussis (3)

Andre Pigeon did well to finish 4th, while Dave Kraehling took 5th place. Gino Bossio had to settle for 6th, with Burt Brassard close behind at 7th. Lou Marinoff rounded out the top 8.

B-Pool winners: Josh Kloosterman (3), Mike Brossard (1), Sergio Angelillo (2)

Mike Brossard won the B-pool, sharing the podium with Sergio Angelillo and Josh Kloosterman. In the earlier round of 16, Josh had grabbed a 2-game lead over Lou the Legend, only to see Lou storm back and take their series 3 games to 2.

C-Pool winners: Roger Owens (1), Anthony Siacca (2), Jean Lavalee (3)

Feisty Roger Owens, making a comeback appearance after several years in retirement, won the C-pool. Tony "Was that in-and-out?" Siacca took 2nd, while Jean Lavalee won 3rd.

Thanks to John Fayolle, for organizing another successful event, and for hanging on to 10th place in the overall NHTL standings.

The big story is King Carlo's continued dominance over this talent-laden Coleco field. Will Carlo make it eight consecutive NHTL wins in Toronto, in December, or will Pat, Sam, Gino or someone else find a way to dethrone him? Table hockey players never say "die," so stay tuned.
